THEATRE on the Ridge

2027 SEASON

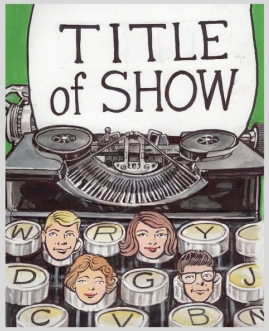

Jan 28 - Feb 14

A psychological thriller set in a rundown Oklahoma motel room, where a lonely waitress and a mysterious drifter ignite an intense romance that spirals into paranoia, conspiracy, and visceral horror. As the pair become convinced of a stealth "infestation" and shadowy government experiments, love turns into obsession and reality fractures—blurring the line between infestation and imagination. Audience Advisory: Explicit language. Adult Content

June 3 - 20

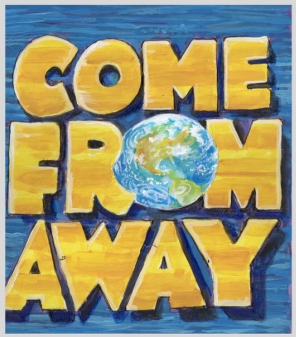

Three longtime friends' relationship is thrown into turmoil when one of them buys an expensive all-white painting. Their heated debate over the artwork exposes deeper tensions, insecurities, and questions about friendship. Their argument over the artwork gradually reveals deeper insecurities about taste, identity, and loyalty. Through witty dialogue and escalating tension, Art explores whether relationships can survive when people stop pretending to share the same values. Audience Advisory: Explicit language. Adult content.

Sept 9 - 26

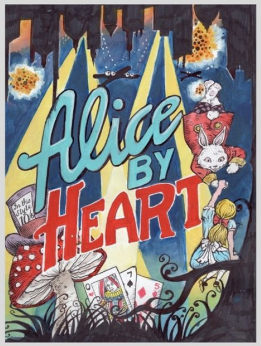

A self-referential musical about Jeff and Hunter, two aspiring writers who decide to create a musical for the New York Musical Theatre Festival. With the help of their friends Susan and Heidi, they transform their struggles, relationships, and creative process into the show itself. As the deadline approaches, the group navigates artistic doubts, personal conflicts, and the pressures of making it in musical theatre.

Apr 1 - Apr 18

The inspiring & heartfelt musical about nearly 7,000 passengers stranded in Gander, Newfoundland, when their planes were diverted after September 11, 2001. Overwhelmed and uncertain, the stranded travelers are welcomed into the homes and hearts of the small local community, finding shelter, compassion, kindness, and friendship. The musical is a moving celebration of kindness, generosity, resilience, and the extraordinary humanity that can emerge in times of crisis.

July 22 - Aug 8

A poignant musical that reimagines Alice's Adventures in Wonderland against the backdrop of the 1941 London Blitz during World War II. The story follows teenager Alice Spencer and her best friend, Alfred Hallam, who take refuge in an underground tube station during a bombing raid. This beautiful musical explores themes of love, loss, the fear of growing up, and the power of stories to help us survive heartbreak and find the courage to move forward.

Nov 4 - 21

When Scotland Yard needs a brilliant detective, a daring disguise, and just the right amount of Victorian mischief, Lady Molly Robertson-Kirk is on the case! In this fast-paced comedic mystery, this pioneering female sleuth outwits criminals—and perhaps a few narrow-minded colleagues—while cracking clues, breaking barriers, and keeping audiences guessing until the very end. Expect clever twists, outrageous antics, and a whodunit with plenty of "who, me?" moments.
